

Paint Marking Torque Wrenches

The paint marking product line has been discontinued. We will continue to support and supply parts and paint for current paint marking torque wrench owners.

If you have a torque verification application where paint marking is the only option, please contact us and we can manufacture a paint marking wrench for you. If you do not specifically require paint, please consider our ink or punch marking torque wrenches as a torque verification method.